FOR HER BABY! STRAINED FOODS BEARING—

1.  A SEAL YOU VALUE HIGHLY
2.  A SEAL SHE UNDERSTANDS

Every day, an increasing number of doctors give their active recommendation to Heinz Strained Foods for infants and soft diet cases.

One reason is that Heinz Strained Foods bear the Seal of Acceptance of the American Medical Association's Council on Foods. This means that they have been carefully investigated and officially accepted by that exacting profession.

Secondly, Heinz Strained Foods bear the famous "57" Seal of Quality. For over 50 years women have looked to this insignia as a hallmark of pure, safe and wholesome foods. They have never been disappointed.

Strained foods have both the backing of an official medical body and the high esteem of experienced housewives and mothers throughout America. Try Heinz Strained Foods!

IMPORTANT

The month of Adar II (sometimes referred to as Ve-Adar) occurs only during Leap Years.

If an event took place during the month of Adar II in a Leap Year, the anniversary of such event is observed in the month of Adar in regular years.

When a Leap Year occurs again, the anniversary, of course, is observed in the month of Adar II.
